

Bi-Weekly Update April 27 2012 GT1374 TSX Comp 12212 DJII 13245

Don't fight the FED. We are in the early stages of a global bull market that should run through 2012 and 2013. All bull markets require leadership and this one has been lead by the financial and global recovery sensitive stock sectors such as technology and the industrials

We now focus on some overlooked Canadian industrials with global exposure such as Bombardier Inc. (BBD.B), CCL Industries Inc. (CCLB) Methanex Corporation (MX) and ONEX Corporation (OCX) – see the new Global portfolio last page

A study of the long term forces at work on several Canadian Multi-Nationals

Methanex Corporation MX

Methanex Corporation, together with its subsidiaries, engages in the production, marketing, and sale of methanol. The company also purchases and re-sells methanol produced by others. Its methanol is a clear liquid commodity chemical that is used to produce traditional chemical derivatives, including formaldehyde, acetic acid, and various other chemicals. The company supplies its methanol to petrochemical producers and distributors in North America, the Asia Pacific, Europe, and Latin America.

The long term monthly study of Methanex displays 7-years of bullish congestion along with strong relative out perform vs. the S&P/TSX60 Index.

Onex Corporation (OCX)

Onex Corporation is a private equity firm specializing in acquisitions. The firm makes investments in large-cap, mid-cap and small-cap market and distressed companies. It also invests in corporate carve-outs of mission-critical supply divisions from multinational corporations and operational restructurings of undervalued businesses. The firm seeks to invest in aerospace, healthcare, industrials, commercial and investment banking, financial services, commercial and multi-unit residential real estate.

The long term monthly study of Onex displays a potential break out to new all-time highs along with strong relative out perform vs. the S&P/TSX60 Index.

Long term forces at work on several Canadian Multi-Nationals

Celestica Inc (CLS)

Celestica Inc. provides electronics manufacturing services to original equipment manufacturers and service providers in the communications, consumer, computing, and industrial, aerospace and defense, healthcare, green technology, and semiconductor capital equipment end markets in the Americas, Asia, and Europe.

The long term monthly study of Celestica displays the end of a 2000 - 2009 secular bear that began with the manic peak of 2000

The bullish 5-year base has allowed the stock turnover from weak to strong hands

CCL Industries Inc

CCL Industries Inc. engages in the development and manufacturing of label and specialty packaging solutions. The company operates through three segments: Label, Container, and Tube. The Label segment produces pressure sensitive, shrink sleeve, stretch sleeve, in-mould and expanded content labels, 2-ply, WashOff, RFID and promotional pieces and pharmaceutical instructional leaflets.

The company primarily operates in Canada, the United States, Puerto Rico, Mexico, Brazil, Europe, Asia, Australia, and Africa..

The long term monthly study of CCL.B displays a 12-year established growth channel

Look for a move to the upper channel powered by the strong relative out perform vs. the S&P/TSX60 Index.

Trader Strategy

Persistent leadership Technology!

All Bull Markets Need Leadership

In the U.S. equity space the three key leadership sectors are the financial, technology and the industrial sectors.

Aside from Apple Inc there are several important survivors from the 2000 .com bubble.

Amazon.com Inc. (AMZN) has exceeded the prior manic peak of 2000.

eBay Inc. (EBAY) has in 2004 exceeded the prior manic peak of 2000.

The following 8-years of bullish congestion will now support a new advance to all-time highs

Note the long term cycle buys ↑
